

Perdido Tinto

Description:

Perdido Tempranillo is a vibrant red from the little-known 3 Riberas region in northern Spain. Fresh and medium-bodied, it offers an expressive take on Tempranillo with juicy fruit and a savoury edge, making it highly drinkable and versatile at the table.

Tasting notes:

Aromas of red cherry, wild strawberry, and dried herbs. The palate shows flavours of raspberry, soft spice, and a touch of earthiness, with smooth tannins and a lifted finish.

Allergens: Contains sulphites.

Dish Pairing:

- Tapas selection
- Grilled pork chops
- Stuffed peppers
- Manchego and olives
- Tomato and chorizo stew

Talking Point:

The 3 Riberas region sits at the meeting point of three river valleys in Navarra, offering varied microclimates that allow for expressive and balanced wines. Perdido—meaning "lost"—highlights this lesser-known area with a modern, fruit-forward style that still nods to Spain's winemaking roots.
